

Skin Cancer Screening

CLIFFSIDE PARK RESIDENTS

Skin cancer is the most prevalent of all types of cancers. It is estimated that more than one million Americans develop skin cancer every year. It is the most common cancer in this country. With early detection and proper treatment, skin cancer is highly curable.

The American Cancer Society recommends the following monitoring to help detect skin cancer early, when it is easier to treat:

- Be familiar with your skin and alert to changes that happen. The best way to do this is to conduct a monthly self-exam of your skin.
- For people 20 years and older, at average risk for skin cancer and without any specific symptoms, have a cancer-related checkup, including skin examination with your periodic exam.
